ACTUAL SYSTEMS OF AMERICA, (ASA), Denver, CO

Co-Founder, investor, and board member

1997 to 2000

A software development company, formed as a joint venture with Actual Systems UK to develop and deploy a new recyclers management system ERP in North America. The only two systems available for recyclers were legacy systems. The system designed and deployed was, and currently is, the state-of-the-art system designed for recyclers. The system was installed by Ford Motor Company in its recycling division.

- Assisted in required capitalization, set up of board, and recruiting of recyclers to serve on design committee.
- Assisted in hiring and staffing ASA and soliciting technical third party support of development procedures.
- Assisted in plans to alpha and beta test the new system, including installations and transfer of existing data from Hollander and Auto Info systems.

UNITED RECYCLERS GROUP, Denver, CO

Founder and managing partner

1996 to 2000

A business-limited partnership providing management information systems, technology, marketing, certification, and training solutions to more than 300 automotive recycling businesses throughout North America.

- Spearheaded innovation in an industry not known for such. In a David and Goliath story, single handily notified, then organized recyclers before the FTC in a wrongful acquisition by ADP.

- Founded a Limited Partnership of over 300 automotive recyclers, raising over $3 million, in response to an industry need for co-operation and alternative to limited support from industry's existing recycler management information and inventory control systems.
- Testified before the Federal Trade Commission concerning Automatic Data Processing (ADP) acquisition of Auto Info, Inc. ADP was directed to divest Auto Info by FTC order because of anti-competitive practices.
- Developed and issued RFP for an enterprise-level software application to replace the two existing industry legacy systems.
- Conceived the "Damage Standard Card," now an industry standard for recyclers and collision repairers, providing a common language for describing damage on recycled parts.
- Conceived, designed, and published "Premium Parts Magazine" (distributed nationwide) with an accompanying software for gathering and publishing recyclers' inventories to customers.
- Formed a joint venture with a UK-based technology firm to design and implement a plan to bring alternative software technology to the U.S. market. This solution, called Pinnacle, was later installed in Greenleaf's operations in North America.

AAA SMALL CAR WORLD INC., Auto Recyclers Inc., Ft Worth, TX
Founder, president, and CEO 1980 to 1999

One of the largest auto recycling businesses in the United States with over 140 employees. Gross revenues of over $14 million. After 20 years of successful operation, business was sold to Ford Motor Company's subsidiary, Greenleaf, LLC in 1999.

- Founded recycling business with one employee in 1980, growing it to 140 employees in 6 locations throughout Texas with revenues of over $14 million.
- Pioneered registration and regulation in an industry with very little, with great resistance to environmental regulation, working with the national association for recyclers.
- Was one of the first recycling businesses in the U.S. to computerize operation. Helped design and implement continued improvement in the software, including use of handheld computers.
- Acquired and divested approximately a dozen recycling businesses, with and without real estate.
- Planned and executed, in house, a Regulation D private placement of $1 million to position company for growth.
- Participated actively in state, national and international industry associations and taught seminars on various issues including computerization, marketing, inventory valuation, and shipping.
- Testified before FTC on anti-trust issues concerning the only two material providers of software to the industry. AAA Small Car World/Auto Recyclers, Inc. operation was the single largest industry user of CCI software.
- Served as an expert witness on inventory and cost of goods valuation for a venture capital firm that funded an attempted consolidation of automotive recycling businesses.

AAA SMALL CAR WORLD, Ft Worth, TX
President and owner 1977 to Present

Used car dealership.

- Obtained dealer license, P16-747, which is still active today.

AAA SMALL CAR WORLD (formerly AAA Bug Service), Ft Worth, TX
President and owner 1973 to 1980

Started VW repair business following high school. Branched into repairs and sales of all imports and collision repair and estimating. Accumulated approximately 35 wrecked cars that became the starting inventory for an auto recycling business.
